Meetup.com—In the fall of last year we started exploring how we could increase participation across West of 50’s wide programming demographic. A concept that was thought up was Meetup.com. Meetup is a social media platform for hosting and organizing in-person and virtual activities, gathering, and events for people and communities of similar interests, hobbies, and professions.

After much review the program decided to invest in a membership and is attempting to bring new individuals to the program. In June the group went live and we added all of West of 50’s activities including its disability programming to the page. Within three weeks we already had a new participant attending weekly programming. Though membership growth has been slow on the page we have are starting to see individuals use the page and attend programming.

An added benefit to our group’s page is that it is an easy way to find all of our activities in one spot. I check it regularly and engage members who have questions and post photos from our activities. Meetup is free to join. Should you have questions or need help accessing the site, please reach out to Bryant or myself.

check out our Meetup page at https://www.meetup.com/west-of-50/ or us your phone to scan the QR code.

WOF An interview with Jaylin the mastermind behind The Center’s newest program: The Lawler Mental Health Program.

What is the name of your position? “I am the Director of Mental Health Services.”

What is your biggest goal for the program over the next 6 months? “I would say to see about 15 to 20 community members per intern and see more participation in our support groups. Along with that, positive feedback from that engagement.”

Did you say interns.... How many? “Two. We will be onboarding two interns this September.”

I heard your interns can’t have toenails is that true? “No... they can’t have toenails nor can they have a pinky toe. You don’t need those to be a therapist.”

What is deal your deal against toenails? “I am not a feet person.”

I heard you will be hosting a group focused on foot and mouth play. Is this true? “Not yet... not now... good idea...”

Since this is a new program to The Center...what is the overall concept behind it? “It is to get more access and awareness to mental health services and to create more LGBTQ affirming mental health services.”

What is your population you are hoping to engage? “18 and older... and we open to individuals and couples or throuple or that gangbang that you took on and had an emotional outburst with over size.”

If Donkey Kong is a monkey, not a donkey, why was he given that name? “Because he acts an ass. That’s good.”

About the event: Let’s grow together. You’re invited to the launch party of our Lawler Mental Health Program! Come learn about the program and the services we’ll be offering, engage with mental health professionals, connect with fellow community members, and celebrate this new beginning! The party will feature a performance from a local drag artist, photo backdrop, food and more.

Date: Thursday, September 7. Time: 6:00 – 8:00 PM

#HIVandAging: National HIV/AIDS and Aging Awareness Day is observed each year on September 18th. This important day highlights the unique health and social needs, as well as challenges of HIV prevention, testing, treatment, and care in older adults. Thanks to improvements to the accessibility of care and treatment, people who are diagnosed early, and who get and stay on antiretroviral therapy, can keep the virus suppressed to live long and healthy lives.

Did you know that more than half of the people diagnosed with HIV in 2018 were aged 50 or older?

Older people with HIV face different psychosocial and health issues. They require a more strategic treatment plan. This is due to non-AIDS related conditions, and other barriers that older people face such as social isolation and depression. According to the Colorado HIV Surveillance Quarterly Report. Between January 1, 2023 and March 31, 2023 there were 17 newly reported cases of HIV; 15 among men and 2 among women. Of those new cases 2 of them were over the age of 50. In the 4th quarter of 2022 there were 87 new reported cases. Of those individuals, 11 of them were 50 years and older. To learn more about HIV prevention and supports contact the Colorado Health Network at 303.837.0166 or contact Jason or Bryant - Jason

Lesbian Lounge Continues! Due to popular demand the lounge continues with weekly conversations and the occasional workshop. Over the four week trial run of the series the group had 20 participants participate in topics ranging from relationship health, social skills, and even a doctor facilitated session. One attendee noted “It’s great having a space for us gals. I learn a lot and enjoy the conversation. Emma has done a wonderful job.”

Sadly Emma’s internship came to a close on August 9th. But, once again interns have left their mark on the program. This program will be peer-led and facilitated by Carrey Candrian, PhD, who facilitated a health conversation with the group during its first month.

In need of a little conversation, fun, learning, and community? This weekly group is focused on supporting queer-identifying women through conversation, creativity, and learning. These peer lead conversations will focus on anything from relationships, to health, to current events with the occasional workshop.

Mondays from 10 - 11:30a

Master the Mingle— Join the AARP Community Group as we launch our newest idea! The Mingle Masters is a casual social/community development event taking place on rooftop of The Center! Snacks and alcoholic & nonalcoholic beverages will be served at this relaxing yet enjoyable social gathering. Please RSVP with Jason or Bryant to attend.

When: Friday September 8th, 3-7pm
Where: Rooftop of The Center
Creative Aging + Well-being Convening & West of 50—One of my goals for 2023 was to do more education surrounding the devaluing of older queer adults and what I have perceived as an unwillingness to provide any type of grace for a population that has been through so much and continue to have barriers presented to them. A study of gay, lesbian, and bisexual individuals over the age of sixty reported almost two-thirds (63%) of participants were the victim of verbal abuse on their sexual orientation and more than a quarter (29%) received threats of physical violence. Additionally, throughout this population’s life they have experienced the loss of friends and loved ones due the AIDS crises, loss of employment for being queer, and could not be out in the world for fear of discrimination or loss of housing. They now face issues of discrimination in long-term care facilities and struggle with navigating a changing world that does not poise any latitude for the aging community.

When pitching the concept of intergenerational work to others, it was brought to my attention that we needed to protect youth from older adults due to their lack of understanding. In my eyes we need to protect our older adults from youth and their accusations and lack of resiliency. Thus, I conjured up the idea of working with the two largest programs I knew of; The Denver Public Library and the Denver Art Museum. I pitched the idea of educating practitioners on experiences of older LGBTQ+ individuals. My goal was to put forth a seminar that educated practitioners on the lived experiences of older queer adults and their struggles both past and present.

The result, West of 50 and our two largest partners will be educating fellow practitioners who work with older adults. The practitioners will consists of individuals who work in the area of aging services and could include arts centers, museums, healthcare services, senior residences, and beyond. As these individuals arrive from across the country, this will be one of the key trainings that they all go to. This year’s two-day gathering will take place at the Denver Art Museum on September 21st and 22nd. I will be leading a roundtable conversation with local specialist as well as presenting to the group. This is my second conference presentation this year. -Jason

Brown Rice with Black Beans and Avocado:

Lunch & Learn: Drag as Drama Therapy—“Over the years I have witnessed the healthy ways drag can help people process their emotions and the unhealthy ways that it can perpetuate trauma and conflict. I have also been lucky to experience firsthand the power of performance in drag. My experiences as a witness to the interactions that happen in the backroom and as a performer have led me to believe their needs to be a formalized exploration into the cathartic power of drag.” (Mehay, 2021, 5)

When I graduated from Kansas State University, I did so having written my Master’s Thesis, titled: Drag as Therapy: A Defense for the use of Drag as Drama Therapy. Through research and interviews conducted with drag artists, I crafted and presented my theory on connecting the artform of drag to theoretical orientations & implementations of Drama Therapy. Join me September 20th from 11:45-1pm as I break down each several theories you may recognize if you have been attending my Drama Therapy Dunk N’ Munches and relate them to the performance and embodiment of drag.

When: Wednesday, Sept. 20th 11:45-1pm. Please RSVP with Bryant or Jason

Meet our new MSW Intern Kadie! They start on September 14th!

Hi everyone!!

My name is Kadie (they/them) and I am the new intern at The Center on Colfax, West of 50! A bit about me, I grew up and lived in Illinois for the past 21 years and just recently moved to the Denver area to pursue my Master’s in Social Work at the University of Denver.

A few fun facts:

- I love to crochet - I am currently crocheting a blanket and love making mini-stuffed animals
- I bake a lot - My favorite things to bake are cookies and brownies
- I recently adopted a cat - His name is Sir, he is 10 years old, and he loves to cuddle
- I am really looking forward to this experience but most of all, getting to know everyone at the Center!
Dining & Development with Jason — Embracing the Next 50 -

Aging is a part of life and there is nothing we can do about it. Except—embrace it and set your intention. In this conversation we will unpack aging and what that means to us and how we perceive that process. We will answer the following questions:

- How to develop a positive perception about aging.
- What is resilience and how can I cultivate it later in life?
- What does it mean to accept yourself?
- What are the practical benefits of self-acceptance?
- How can we develop a greater self-acceptance?

Dinner provided.

Date: Wed, September 27th

Time: 5:30p—7:30p

RSVP: with Jason or Bryant

This event is sponsored by AARP

Center Host 1st Disability Pride Celebration!

- During the final weekend in July The Center recognized Disability Pride Month by hosting its first ever Disability Pride Month Celebration. This inaugural event featured a resource fair with the organizations Beam+, PASCO, Atlantis, DIRT Coffee, and Denver’s The Division of Disability Rights, a speed-friending engagement, and a presentation and performances by local drag/burlesque artists Allie Soreass and Marionette Clown Toy. Through this event, community members learned more about the services offered to LGBTQ+ people with disabilities, develop new connections, and learn about the empowering experience of performance. More pictures from the event can be found at this link https://www.flickr.com/photos/lgbtqcolorado/albums/72177720310166779.

Thank you to everyone who helped, attended, and donated to this event. — Bryant.

Sexuality and Disability—Topics of sex and sexuality for the disability community have long been taboo and ignored by the culture at large. Each week in this hybrid group we will dive into a specific topic, ranging from representation of disabled sex and sexuality in the media, consent, to healthy sex practices. This program will also feature special guest speakers that will come in and share on relevant topics. The content of this group will be based in the most current research & guided by the community and its interests. This program is for adults 21+. Disability and Sexuality will be held on the third Monday of each month from 5:30-7pm.

When: Third Monday of each month, starting September 18th from 5:30-7pm

Where: Hybrid, register on the website to receive Zoom link, join in-person at The Center on Colfax
